

An aerial photograph of a beach with waves crashing onto the shore. The image is overlaid with a large, stylized eye graphic. The eye's outline is composed of concentric circles and a thick, dark line forming the iris and pupil. The pupil is a solid dark teal color. The iris is a lighter teal color with a pattern of small, dark teal circles. The background of the eye is a light beige color. The overall color palette is dominated by teal and beige tones.
